The Manuscript Scholar

When good becomes evil, he grows perplexed. Takes up two wild coeds. What transpires rattles him to his vacated core.

Begins rebuilding with Eastern texts, freely translated and bored with absurdities. Such riddles mean nothing,

a comfort.